Bonus Aimed at Blocking Walkouts

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The postal reform-pay raise package negotiated in the wake of the nation's first mail strike has passed a House committee with a bonus aimed at heading off new walkouts.

The bonus would make the eight per cent pay boost promised to postal workers after the strike retroactive to April 16, not effective with congressional approval of the bill which appears to be weeks away.

The retroactive pay was written in by the House Post Office Committee in the face of a vote that mandates a strike by dissident New York postal workers next Thursday, and in the face of adamant Senate opposition that is likely to delay final approval of the package by Congress.

The House committee also wrote in a number of other changes, including a policy of higher pay for high cost of living areas such as New York City before passing the bill 13-10 late Monday in a rare night session.

The postal reform portion of the bill—calling for creation of an independent U.S. Postal Service that would run the mails much as a corporation and is to put them on a self-paying basis by 1978—was passed with almost no change.

But Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., chief House advocate of the bill, said he believed the committee changes would make it unacceptable to the Nixon administration and AFL-CIO postal unions that negotiated it.

He indicated he will try to rewrite the bill on the floor, where it could go to a vote as early as next week, to restore the negotiated settlement.

The retroactive pay and cost of living area wage adjustments are likely to be opposed by the administration because of their cost, for which there were no estimates.

Agnew was quoted as saying he would like to explain, discuss and debate administration policy on college campuses, but feels there is no chance now for him to be heard.

These developments came up at the White House Monday as the governors of 43 states discussed with Nixon the problems of dissent and communication across the generation gap.

Agnew was said by a Democratic governor, Kenneth Curtis of Maine, to have remarked that "the rascals and the radicals" must be cleared off campuses if the government is to re-establish communications with students.

White House spokesmen said Agnew had told the governors he would like to appear on campuses himself, but faces the prospect of being shouted down by militants and not heard.

LOWELL HARRIS

Dr. Lowell Harris was speaking at Monday's regular Lions Club luncheon at Town and Country, discussing the dangers of Rubella, commonly known as German or three day measles.

This malady seems to come in seven year cycles reaching epidemic proportions. The usually mild illness attacks unborn children through the mother and as a result children are born with weak eyes, impaired hearing or worse, impaired mental capacity.

A public health service film was shown and it was very interesting because the work at the Arkansas Children's Colony at Conway was a feature. Doctors shown included Harry Meyer of Conway who helped develop the vaccine and controlling Rubella. Lion Harris brother, Dr. C. Lynn Harris graduated from medical school with Dr. Meyer.

In recent years 20 to 30 thousand babies have been treated for defects caused by Rubella at a cost of over $12 million. A question and answer program followed.

Some Students Strikes Are Continuing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A student strike against the Indochina war continues to have widespread impact despite the official reopening of many colleges. However, student efforts to build a general workers strike have had little effect.

A survey showed 129 colleges and universities in 43 states and the District of Columbia officially reopened Monday, some with classes virtually empty due to continuing boycotts.

Meanwhile, strikes of indefinite duration were still in effect at 192 educational institutions, according to a partially complete survey by the student strike information center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass.

Although most of the nation's 1,500 campuses were calm, Gov. Robert McNair declared a state of emergency at the University of South Carolina in Columbia after rampaging students ransacked the first floor of the administration building and clashed with state troopers and National Guardsmen.

The troopers and guardsmen used nightsticks and tear gas to clear the campus of a rock-throwing crowd of 1,000 to 3,000 students who were protesting the arrest of 41 persons last Thursday during a campus demonstration against the war.

In Denver, about 1,000 National Guardsmen were placed on alert as authorities prepared a second attempt to dismantle "Woodstock Nation," a commune on the University of Denver campus which the university chancellor, Maurice Mitchell, described as a "doggy bag, ditty-wash, squatters' camp."

Police battled some 1,000 young people and arrested 30 Monday when they moved in to dismantle the commune. However, the shantytown of tents and shacks was rebuilt larger than before after police withdrew.

Almost Certain Approval for Blackmun

WASHINGTON (AP) — With scarcely a whisper of opposition, Judge Harry A. Blackmun's Supreme Court nomination headed for almost certain Senate approval today on President Nixon's third try to fill a year-old high court vacancy.

Absent in the confirmation vote was the highly charged political atmosphere accompanying rejection of Nixon's first two nominees, Judges Clement F. Haynsworth of Greenville, S.C., and G. Harrold Carswell of Tallahassee, Fla.

Cheek to Seek Democratic Nomination

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — W. C. "Bill" Cheek, 48, of West Memphis announced Monday that he would seek the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and said he believed he could unite the Democratic party in Arkansas.

Cheek, who said he voted for George Wallace in the 1968 presidential election, said the state Democratic party had been destroyed by "men who are obviously determined to either use the party for their own selfish interest or to completely destroy it."

Cheek, a businessman, said he believed Jim Johnson, the party's 1966 gubernatorial nominee, and former Gov. Orval E. Faubus were "mainly responsible" for division in the party.

"I think that the state of Arkansas has got to have a man that will be acceptable to both factions of the Democratic party, a man that the people can more or less rally around, a man that has the respect of that people," he said. "And I believe I'm that man."

"I think that the only way we can rid Arkansas of the Rockefeller blight is to unite the Democratic party," he said.

Cheek said Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had led the state into a "deplorable condition" with "the connivance of money-grabbing, opportunistic, turncoat Democrats."

Cheek said he did not believe one gubernatorial candidate would be completely acceptable to the "extreme elements" of the state party, but that he believed the "vast majority of fair-minded people who have a moderate philosophy and the conservative element of the party" could compromise on one man.

"And neither do I believe that the hard-core right wing element of the party nor the moderate would ever unit with the small minority of the loud-mouthed so-called liberals whose political philosophy is such that the only reason that they object to Rockefeller is that he is in a position to ruin the state and not themselves," Cheek said.

Cheek was the state coordinator of Johnson's 1966 campaign, but he said he did not follow Johnson into the American Party of Arkansas. He also said he had been falsely branded an "outspoken segregationist."

Cheek said he was not "for going to the old days of complete separation" but that he opposed busing solely to achieve racial balance.

On other subjects, Cheek said law and order would be a prime issue in the campaign and that it "may be necessary" to increase "some" taxes in order to pay higher welfare and old age benefits and to increase the salaries of teachers, state employees and law enforcement officers.

Cheek said he had $200,000 to $300,000 in campaign funds "in sight" and that some of his largest supporters were from the Little Rock area.

Cheek was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor of West Memphis in 1968 and ran unsuccessfully for sheriff of Crittenden County in 1964.

and racial views lined up behind Blackmun, a judge on the 8th U.S. Court of Appeals and a long-time friend of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

The stage for Blackmun's confirmation was set Monday when the Senate brought it up. What little debate there was went in his favor. Senators spent most of the time talking about Cam-bodia.

Moist Air Is Feed Into Arkansas

Southerly winds continued to feed warm, moist air into Arkansas today.

An upper air low pressure trough which was over the Pacific coast this morning was expected to drift toward Arkansas during the next two days and cause the state's weather to be a little more unstable, the Weather Bureau said.

Widely scattered showers and thundershowers were forecast for the state tonight, with an increase in shower activity by Wednesday afternoon, the bureau said.

Highs Monday ranged from 83 at Fayetteville to 88 at Fort

Industry Veto Is a Fact, Says Finch

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industry has been allowed to veto prospective members of at least two major government scientific advisory committees in the past five years, Secretary Robert H. Finch of Health, Education and Welfare has acknowledged.

Involved were vetoes over positions the surgeon general's committee on smoking and health and the surgeon general's committee on behavioral effects of television violence, Finch said.

"In each case, members of the affected industries were given a long list of potential candidates for the committee and were invited to indicate any doubts they might have concerning the scientific impartiality of any of the individuals on that list," Finch said in a letter to Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont.

"When the surgeon general selected members for service on these advisory committees, he did not select individuals to whom there were objections raised by members of the industry," he wrote. "The government was looking for individuals without a previous commitment to one side of the controversy or another."

Finch said the broadcasting industry objected to seven of 40 candidates for the television-violence committee. No indication was given of the number of smoking and health panelists vetoed by cigarette manufacturers.

Antismoking forces and critics of television violence were not given similar veto powers, HEW sources said. Furthermore, Finch's April 22 letter was the first public acknowledgment of the veto practice.

Overnight lows included 70 at Fayetteville and Texarkana, 68 at Harrison, Pine Bluff and Little Rock, 71 at Jonesboro, 65 at El Dorado and 72 at Memphis and Fort Smith.

No precipitation was reported in the 24-hour period which ended at 7 a.m. today.

"As a general rule, HEW does not provide industry with an opportunity to review nominations for membership on an advisory committee affecting that industry," Finch wrote. "Nevertheless, there have been exceptions to the general policy when it is in the public interest."

The secretary said vetoes were provided "to protect the government from the charge of establishing a biased committee."

"It was probable in each case that the report of the advisory committee would contain substantial criticism of the industry," he said.

"In addition, since protection of the First Amendment rights of the television industry is so important, it was considered essential that the government be protected from any possible charge that it was intimidating the broadcasting industry," Finch wrote.

The smoking panel reviewed some 11,000 research reports and concluded in 1964 there was a causal link between cigarettes and lung cancer. The violence committee has yet to report.

Members of the 12-man television panel include Thomas Corfin, a vice president of the National Broadcasting Co., and Joseph Klapper, a special research director for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Women Seek Bank Charter in Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Nine women who say their sex for too long has gone untrained in matters of finance are seeking a state charter to establish and operate a bank.

The First Women's Bank of Florida would be near the retirement center on the southern end of Miami Beach.

"We hope our bank would be used as a proving ground to train women to take care of their financial matters," says Mrs. Mal Englander, a 45-year-old grandmother and chairman of the board for the proposed facility.

"We realize that all women would like to predecease their husbands but the facts of life are that we don't. And whether women handle any of the financial matters or not, we would like for them to be able to face it calmly and with knowledge. Many women fear just the word 'bank.' We would like to make bank a household word."

Men also will be employed by the bank, and their accounts would be welcomed, Mrs. Englander said.

GIRLS TAKE OVER BOYS' DRESSING ROOMS

Dear Helen: We've had it with girls! If a guy walks into the try-on room in the men's department of clothing stores, he may come out with a red face, followed by squeals and giggles. The dames (there are always two or more as they shop in flocks) are trying on our jeans and cords!

But if a man dared walk into a ladies' dressing room, he'd be thrown out of the store. Why can't girls buy their own pants and stay out of our men's department?—EUGENE

Dear Eugene: There's no figuring out wimmin! Girls say men's jeans fit them better. (I think they mean "Tighter.") But most men figure this is just another ruse to overrun their territory.

You might solve the battle of the dressing room by asking your store to put a rack of men's pants in the menswear department. But then the gals probably wouldn't buy.—H.

Dear Helen: I guess every high school, and maybe even junior highs, have this problem: Smoke-filled bathrooms. It's got so bad that people who want to use these rooms for their real purposes—like washing your hands, etc., can't get near the basins; and even if they do manage to squeeze through the crowd, they're choked by cigarette smoke. That's rough on non-smokers or those who have sworn off and don't want to be tempted.

Cigarettes are banned on school premises, but it would mean hiring an extra guard for each bathroom if the rule were enforced.

The kids can't smoke outside in plain sight or they'll get suspended, but it's generally assumed that washrooms are "safe." Like a lot of other rules, if you break them in the right place, there's an unspoken agreement that you won't be bothered. Teachers can't be policemen.

Well, that's great for smokers, but it deprives the rest of us (the majority nowadays) of our rights. We suggested to our principal that he make a "smoking room" out of an unused classroom. "Illegal," he said, though he sympathized with our problem.

Any suggestions? —MALE MEMBER OF STUDENT COUNCIL

Dear Member: It's true: Most schools these days can't effectively "police" cigarette use. So a compromise is the next best thing.

Why don't you students (officially) designate certain bathrooms "for smokers only" and make the others off limits? I'm sure you'll get quiet cooperation from teachers, even to occasional "clean air" checks in the latter (but not the former—another inducement.)

(Yup, that's a cop-out to an unenforceable rule, but it's a better than being choked by smoke, right?)—H.

Dear Helen: About the boy who is frantic over his super-

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — This is the season for fumbling up, and passing out awards.

In television, preparations are under way for presentation of Emmy Awards for programs, performers, writers and directors on June 7 during an ABC program.

This year, technical and craft awards of little interest to the general public will be presented a couple of weeks from now at an untelevised dinner of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences as a means of cutting down the clutter and length of the big show.

Close to 170 programs and individuals have been nominated for industry honors. Here follows the choices of this viewer — who would skip a ballot in a lot of the categories.

NBC's "My Sweet Charlie," a film feature with Patty Duke and Al Freeman Jr., certainly shaped up as the season's outstanding single dramatic program and the performances of the two leads were superb.

CBS's "Annie, the Women in the Life of a Man" starring Anne Bancroft was original, charming and funny. It towered over the other variety programs of the season. "Sesame Street" of the educational network was without much doubt the season's outstanding new series and its impact was felt through all of television. Partly because of its acceptance, the networks have made an effort to upgrade their schedules of children's programs.

"My World and Welcome to It" on NBC was a valiant effort to get away from the tired formula situation comedy. ABC often succeeded in doing something bright and different with comedy in "Love, American Style" and has something warm and wise going in "Room 222."

David Frost with his syndicated series and Dick Cavett with his late night show on ABC have added some class and crackle to the talk shows. Both are nominees for Emmys in a classification that pits them, rather unfairly, against shows like "Lauch-In" and "The Carol Burnett Show."

Candidates for an Emmy in the "outstanding dramatic series" group include the new "Marcus Welby, M.D.," a workmanlike doctor series. Others—"Ironside," "Mod Squad" and "The Name of the Game" are simply good, slick action series. "The Forsythe Saga is a British series made several years ago. Probably the educational network's "NET Playhouse" which tried for diversity and was often stimulating, is most deserving of the statuette in this category

This Is Senior Citizens Month in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "Old age," says the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity, "is a long, long time."

For some who have reached or passed the age of 65, a third of their life is yet to be lived. And yet, only one in five of the persons past retirement age are in the labor market, primarily in parttime and low-paid jobs, says the U.S. Administration on Aging.

The fact that the elderly do not hold more jobs is due to many factors, including insufficient education for employment, physical handicaps resulting from old age, a loss of mental acuity, a lack of modern job skills.

"To earn one's bread — the American ethic — is the significant link between that ever-growing span when jobs end, for whatever reason, and the only alternative available seems to be a static and deadening waiting period," says an OEO booklet titled "Resources for the Aging."

For those who in earlier years earned a living, the jobless state is "a painful bridge to cross," the OEO booklet says.

"They are often victims of an eroding sense of 'worthlessness,'" says the OEO.

Meek Chisox Turn Lion on Tigers

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The cracks in Detroit's pitching and the crevices in Milwaukee's infield have thrown Mayo Smith for a loss and left Dave Bristol fit to be tied.
Chicago's normally meek White Sox, who had scored a total of eight runs while losing their previous four starts, muscled up against five Detroit pitchers Monday night and pounded the Tigers 9-5.

At Milwaukee, meanwhile, ninth inning fielding lapses and a rainstorm combined to interrupt the Brewers' five-game winning streak as the New York Yankees came from behind to earn a 5-5 standoff.
In the only other game on the American League schedule, California nipped Boston 2-1 in 16 innings, including a record-tying strikeout string by Red Sox starter Ray Culp.

In National League play, Atlanta shaded the Chicago Cubs 7-6 in 10 innings; Montreal stunned the New York Mets 3-0; Pittsburgh downed Cincinnati 4-1; St. Louis beat Philadelphia 3-0 and San Francisco squeezed past San Diego 6-5 in 14 innings.

The White Sox peppered Joe Niekro and four Detroit relievers for 14 hits, including homers by Ed Herrmann and Luis Aparicio, in their biggest offensive binge of the season.

Smith's Tigers have lost five of their last seven starts—while being tattooed for 50 runs. "We're working on a lot of things," said the perplexed Detroit manager. "We'll have to weather it through."
Herrmann stroked three hits, good for three RBIs; Syd O'Brien knocked in three runs and Tom McCraw also contributed three hits to the Chicago assault.

The Brewers blew a 5-2 lead in the ninth; second baseman John Kennedy and third baseman Tommy Harper committing costly errors, before the game was halted by the rain. It will be replayed in full as part of a July 31 doubleheader.

"We made a lot of mistakes," said Brewers' pilot Bristol. "You can't give a team a fourth, fifth and sixth out in an inning and win."
"But any day that you're alive and healthy isn't wasted."

Pitcher Bob Bolin's home run helped the Brewers build their commanding lead against Mel Stottlemyre, but Kennedy's throwing error and Harper's boot handed the Yanks three unearned runs in the ninth.

The Angels snapped a 1-1 tie in the 16th when Jarvis Tatum doubled, took third on a fly out and scored on Sandy Alomar's fourth hit—a blooper over the drawn-in Boston infield.

Culp struck out the first six California batters he faced, tying the modern major league mark set by Detroit's John Hiller two years ago. The all-time record of nine straight strikeouts at the start of a game was established in 1884 by the New York Giants' Michael Welch.

The Red Sox led 1-0 and Culp was working on a three-hitter in the eighth, when Tom Egan's single, a sacrifice and infield hits by Alomar and pinch hitter Billy Cowan knotted it.

Dave Larocche, making his first major league appearance, pitched to one batter in the top of the 16th and was credited with the victory.

Boston Bruins Are Looking Into Future

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — A single championship, barely constitutes the start of a dynasty, but the Boston Bruins are looking ahead after winning the Stanley Cup for the first time since 1941.
The big question being asked in the wake of the Bruins' 10 straight playoff victories, including four-game sweeps of the Chicago Black Hawks and the St. Louis Blues, was: what do you do for an encore?

Coach Harry Sinden, a youthful 35 who piloted the Bruins to hockey's most coveted trophy in just his third season, plans a few days of relaxation, before looking for the future. However, he isn't too worried.

"This team has the ingredients all champions have," Sinden said. "We have the super stars, such as Bobby Orr, that are so necessary. We also have plenty of other talent, youth, size, good goal-tending and good defense."

"There's no reason this team can't continue. Things may be a little tougher next year as everyone wants a solid crack at the champs, but I think we'll be ready for all challenges."

The Bruins, smiling with a champagne sparkle after a long evening of revelry, were given an official city salute Monday. More than 125,000 fans lined the streets for a two-mile motorcade from Park Square to City Hall Plaza.

Sinden and General Manager Milt Schmidt, who played on Boston's 1941 Stanley Cup winner, plan to sit down soon to map plans for the National Hockey League draft next month.

Sinden also has an early appointment with Bruins President Weston Adams Jr. to talk money. Sinden's contract expired during the playoffs and he's in line for a big payboost.

The Bruins will be able to protect only 14 skaters and two goalies in the expansion draft to fill new teams in Buffalo and Vancouver. They figure to lose a couple of solid players. However, Boston has some fine young talent in the farm system and owns high draft choices in the junior ranks to get more.

Schmidt, a master in the trade market, probably will work at least one deal before the draft.

Orr, of course, is the key to the Bruins' future. Although only 22, he is recognized as one of the all-time greats in NHL history. He is without a peer as high-scoring defenseman.

Orr became the first player in NHL history to capture four major awards in a season as the league's board of governors voted him the Conn Smythe Trophy Monday as the most valuable player in the playoffs.

Orr became the first defenseman in history to lead the NHL in scoring, piling up 120 points this season. Then he continued to set more records in the playoffs with nine goals and 20 points. His goal after 40 seconds of overtime gave Boston a 4-3 victory and a four-game sweep of the championship series with St. Louis.

Orr earlier collected the Hart Trophy as the league's most valuable player, the Ross Trophy for winning the scoring title and the Norris Trophy for the third straight year as the NHL's top defenseman. He earned $15,250 in added money as a result of the awards and $8,750 in the playoffs.

Expo Relief Hurler Startles Mets

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dan McGinn was Montreal Manager Gene Mauch's idea of a surprise but the Expos' reliever, making his annual start, astonished the New York Mets and turned out to be quite a stopper, too.

The hard-throwing southpaw, making his 100th major league appearance, but only his second start—he started once last year—tossed a brilliant three-hitter in blanking the Mets 3-0 Monday night.

In the process the 26-year-old ex-Notre Dame footballer snapped Cy Young Award winner Tom Seaver's regular-season winning streak at 16 and temporarily put the skids to the Expos' slide in which Montreal has won only three of its last nine games.

In other National League action, Atlanta nipped Chicago 7-6 in 10 innings, Pittsburgh whipped Cincinnati 4-1, St. Louis zipped Philadelphia 3-0 and in 14 innings San Francisco downed San Diego 6-5.

In the American League, Chicago bombed Detroit 9-5, New York and Milwaukee played to a 5-5 rain-curtailed tie and California edged Boston 2-1 in 16 innings.

McGinn, a 6-foot, 190-pounder, who appeared in 74 games last year with the Expos and had a 7-10 mark, made his 12th appearance this year and upped his record to 2-1 with his first major league complete game.

"All I heard all day was 'You're going against Seaver'. I guess I was psyched up. Pitching against a guy like that can do it," McGinn said.

"I think he was about due to lose. No matter how great you are it has to happen," McGinn added.

Mauch switched to McGinn instead of scheduled starter Carl Morton, explaining that his unbeaten right-hander had pitched three tough games in a row, the last only three days ago and the extra day's rest would help.

"I've been wasting Dan in the bullpen," Mauch said. "The way we've been going we haven't been in too many games and McGinn couldn't help us out there. Dan was great. He had great stuff and was in command all the way through the nine innings."

Seaver, the 25-year-old right-hander who hadn't lost a regular season game since last August, said:

"You're never overjoyed to lose but I haven't lost in a long time but you don't forget how it feels."

McGinn got all the support he needed when Jim Fairey cracked a solo homer in the second inning. John Bateman added a run-scoring double and Marv Staehle an RBI single as the Expos clipped Seaver for eight hits. Seaver, however, struck out 12, increasing his major league strikeout lead to 72 as the Mets dropped their fourth game in five starts.

Atlanta topped the Cubs on Hank Aaron's 10th-inning homer, helping the Braves to their 12th triumph in 13 games. It was Aaron's fifth homer in six games and his 14th of the season. The winning homer left Aaron five hits shy of the 3,000 milestone.

Rico Carti, the Braves' left fielder, extended his hitting string to 29 straight games with a run-scoring single in the seventh before Johnny Callison tied it for the Cubs at 6-6 with a two-run homer in the bottom half. The Cubs, still atop the NL East with a 2½ game edge, dropped their eighth game in 10 starts.

Left-hander Bob Veale scattered three hits and retired 19 consecutive Reds in one stretch, striking out nine, as the Pirates' Bill Mazeroski doubled home the decisive run in the fifth inning. Willie Stargell had a solo homer and Rich Hebner added three hits for Pittsburgh.

The Cards got a three-run homer from Richie Allen in the ninth inning, backing the fourth-hit pitching of Steve Carlton and breaking up a pitching duel with the Phils' Jim Bunning. Allen slammed his 10th blast of the season following a leadoff double by Leron Lee and an intentional walk to Lou Brock. Carlton struck out 10 and Bunning stopped the Cards without a hit for the first five innings.

First baseman Nate Colbert booted pinch hitter Bob Burda's bases-loaded bouncer in the 14th inning, enabled Giants' starter Gaylord Perry, who went 13 innings, to even his record at 4-4. Gary Ross, 1-3, San Diego's fifth pitcher, took the loss.
Dick Dietz had cracked a run-scoring single and Hal Lanier followed with a two-run hit, putting the Giants in front 5-2 in

Denny McLain Living on Allowance

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Denny McLain was a $16,000-a-month baseball pitcher for the Detroit Tigers last summer. Today he's an unemployed former 31-game winner "living on an allowance from Big Daddy in Cleveland."
Fat paychecks will again roll for McLain come July 1 when his suspension for associations with gambling figures is lifted, but Denny's dollars won't—for the most part—be reaching his free-spending fingers.

"Mark McCormack became famous by handling the professional lives of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and most of the golf crowd," said McLain. "Now he's got my life in his hands."
McLain's money will go to McCormack's Cleveland headquarters and Denny, in turn, will get an allowance for out-of-pocket expenses.

"Anybody who has bills for me will have to send them to Mark," said McLain. "I have faith that he'll not allow me to get in such lousy financial shape again."

Not only has the loss of about $40,000 in salary hurt the Detroit hurler, but bad investments and his eagerness to spend led to a line of red figures at the bank.

"It'll take me a long, long time to become solvent again," he admitted. "I lost a big bundle investing in a paint company and did some other foolish things."

McLain's wife, Sharon, said he "was just a young boy who had never had money before and enjoyed suddenly being able to buy anything he wanted."

McLain's ire is raised by writers who he accuses "write far past their information. Someday the total story will come out and a lot of people will be surprised—especially some sportswriters I know."

McLain is just 26 and had mounted a reputation as a swinger. He said that was overdone and, "just because I owned an airplane, everybody said I was some sort of jet setter."

Denny finished up a sharp nine holes of golf in two-over-par 38 at Lone Palm Club and chatted about his July 1 return to baseball.

"They say it's a sellout in Detroit," he said. "Somebody said it'll be like a second opening day. I never realized how much I missed the game. When I come back, I'll just try to be the best pitcher I possibly can—and to prove that some of the things said and written about me were a little off base."

Baseball Is Hit Harder and Farther

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National League office offered some statistics Monday to show what pitchers already know—the baseball is being hit more often and farther.

But NL President Charles Feeney reaffirmed that there has been no change in manufacture of the league ball.

After 174 games, 428 homers have been hit this season, 192 more than the 236 through 174 games last season.

In other categories, 185 more runs have been scored, the number of doubles has increased by 67, and triples by 23.

Last weekend produced 63 home runs in the National League, counting games of Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Feeney said some new baseballs with his signature have been introduced, but that most of the balls were left over from last season and bear the signature of former NL President Warren Giles.

Feeney's office released a statement from Paul F. Collins, president of the A.G. Spalding Co., which manufactures baseballs for both major leagues.

"No change in the manufacturing of the baseballs has been requested or made this year, last year or the past 45 years," it said.

Some players, coaches and managers say the extra slugging is because players are going to lighter bats.

Others, particularly pitching coach Larry Jansen of the San Francisco Giants, maintain the manufacturer is putting a rubberized glue just under the cover of the new balls, making them livelier.

Feeney says several factors are involved—pitchers are usually behind the hitters in their development at this time of the season, players are bigger, on the average, and that hitters are using lighter and skinnier bats, enabling them to swing harder.

Mario Will Win If He Follows His Old Script

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — If Mario Andretti continues to follow his 1969 script, he'll climb into his old Hawk-Ford and win the 500-mile race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

A universal joint let go and Mario crashed his new German-built McNamara-Ford Monday as he rounded the northwest turn just before a thunder storm broke. He bounced off the inner wall twice, losing his left rear wheel, but was not hurt.

Andy Granatelli, owner of the car, said he planned to have it repaired before the opening of qualifications Saturday.

Last year Andretti crashed in an English Lotus-Ford when a hub carrier broke a few days

A-State Wins Over Southern Illinois

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Catcher Joe Drace doubled in two runs and rapped a solo homer Monday in pacing Arkansas State University to a 5-2 victory over Southern Illinois University at Edwarsville.

The victory snapped SIU's winning streak at 17 games.

Third baseman Dave Runkart also homered for ASU.

Charles Blackburn, a freshman, was credited with the victory.

ASU warmed up for its contest with the Cougars by beating St. Louis University 8-2 earlier in the day in an abbreviated seven-inning game that was rained out Sunday.

Some guesses have gone as high as 1,000.

A mathematic projection puts it at 749.7.

This system, which replaces official money as the basis for exemption, is under fire from many players—at least in its present form.

"Don't be surprised if the point system is abandoned," said veteran Jack McGowan.

"You mean at the end of the year?" asked another player. "No, before then," McGowan said.

Here Is Big Winners in Pro Golf

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee Trevino, the self-styled Merry Mexican, led the pro golf tour money list for the seventh straight week, figures released Monday by the PGA Tournament Players Division showed.

Trevino, one of the two double winners this year, has picked up $95,889 and played in 16 tournaments. The other double winner, Billy Casper, is fourth on the list with $69,483.

Gary Player, in second place, has won $79,481 in nine tournaments.

Dick Lotz is third with earnings of $71,921, followed by Casper, Miller Barber $68,262; Jack Nicklaus $61,237; Bob Lunn $61,126; Frank Beard $53,876; Bruce Devlin $53,819; and Arnold Palmer $53,711.

Trevino also leads the PGA point standings—the new method by which exemptions will be granted. Lee has earned 848.3 points and is the only player on the top 10 who has surpassed the estimated 749 points it will take to secure an exemption next year.

Lotz is second with 638.0, followed by Lunn with 635.0, Barber 618.0, Player 579.6, Dave Stockton

Braniff International said it had canceled flights into the Lubbock airport because the control tower was destroyed.

The Smiley Elementary School was turned into a temporary morgue.

Several city water pumping stations were knocked out and during the early morning hours officials declared a water emergency, advising that it be used only for drinking and cooking.

can troops.

The secretary also held out the possibility that future drives will be needed into Cambodia but said that the South Vietnamese would be able to handle these.

"The South Vietnamese will be in a position by the time the rain season ends to handle any such operations should they be necessary in the future, Laird said, adding that such renewed efforts would likely not be needed until next November at the earliest.

He said that "The South Vietnamese have performed very well in this entire operation."

Laird said the Nixon administration has "lived up to the limits of Congress" which barred U.S. combat ground forces in Laos and Thailand. But he noted that the proposed restrictions for Cambodia would go beyond those.

President Nixon is now so firmly committed to a June 30 deadline for withdrawal of American forces from Cambodia officials doubt he could prolong the operation even if he found it militarily advisable to do so.

The Trading Has Started in Basketball

By BEN THOMAS Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) —

The trading began in the National Basketball Association almost before the league's fourth expansion draft in five years had ended.

More deals were in the offing today as the New York Knicks, newly crowned NBA champions, still wondered how they escaped Monday's selections by Buffalo, Portland and Cleveland without losing the key players.

The runnerup Los Angeles Lakers weren't so fortunate, however, The Lakers unexpectedly left rookie guard Dick Garrett, a starter, unprotected, Buffalo quickly grabbed him.

"I was really surprised to see him available," said Eddie Donovan, Buffalo's general manager. "He's a young player and I thought he had done well for the season and in the playoffs."

Buffalo also selected veteran Bailey Howell from the Boston Celtics, Howell was then dealt to Philadelphia for forward Bob Kauffman and a future draft choice or a player to be named later.

Another Boston veteran, Larry Siegfried, was one of the Portland's top picks and the Trail Blazers promptly traded him to San Diego for guard Jim Barnett.

The NBA conducted the draft in secret in the offices of Com-

Shriver Finds Political Going Tough

By TOM STUCKEY Associated Press Writer ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Sargent Shriver, former U.S. ambassador to France, director of the Peace Corps and a general in the war on poverty, is finding Maryland politics a tough nut to crack.

He has struck few responsive chords after a month of looking for encouragement to run for the Democratic nomination for governor.

"I still think he's going to run, but frankly the way things have been going, I wouldn't blame him if he didn't," said an obviously depressed associate.

Shriver, married to Eunice Kennedy of the Kennedy clan, has failed to come up with a single political endorsement of missioner Walter Kennedy. The league refused to disclose the order of the selections but the first two choices of each expansion club were released and the remaining 27 picks later were made public in three groups of nine.

Buffalo, which had the first selection, apparently picked Garrett, followed by Ray Scott of Baltimore.

Portland, which selected second throughout while Buffalo and Cleveland rotated, chose Siegfried and LeRoy Ellis of Baltimore.

Cleveland's picks were Luther Rackley of Cincinnati and Walt Wesley of Chicago.

The Knicks, Lakers, Boston, Chicago and San Diego each lost three players, the other established clubs two apiece.

Buffalo appears to have the makings of a fine backcourt. In addition to Garrett, the Braves have Mike Davis, another rookie obtained earlier in a trade from Baltimore, along with Herm Gilliam, Fred Crawford and Em Bryant.

note. On the other hand, liberal Democrats have come out openly and urged Shriver not to run while announcing their support for the interim governor, Marvin Mandel. Neither Mandel nor Shriver has formally announced for the nomination but Mandel has used his nearly two decades in Democratic political circles to quietly close the doors on Shriver. Mandel was the powerful speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates and state party chairman when the legislature elected him to serve out the two years in the unexpired term of Spiro T. Agnew, when the latter became vice president.

The primary is Sept. 15. Shriver has arranged private meetings with Democratic committees around the state and AFL-CIO leaders. Democratic leaders kept quiet and organized labor has said it told Shriver it was for Mandel.

"We know that Shriver would be a good person," said Charles Della, president of the 300,000-member council in Maryland and the District of Columbia.

"He's been a liberal thinking man. But, at the same time, you don't hurt your friends."

Liberal Democrats with names known throughout the state have advised Shriver not to expect their backing.

Mandel, after a private session with Shriver in his office, was his usual noncommittal self.

"I think Mr. Shriver is a very personable man, I rather enjoyed the visit," Mandel said.

"We had a very interesting discussion about the political scene in Maryland. He told me he was testing the political scene and it would be some time before he would make any decision."

Asked if he thought Shriver's candidacy would badly split the party for the general election, Mandel said, "This is a decision that Shriver will have to make, and I don't think I should try to influence him."

Two Professors Reinstated at A-State

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas State University Board of Trustees voted Monday, in effect, to reinstate two professors whose dismissals two months ago touched off protests.

The board, in a 3-2 vote, directed that new contracts be offered Dr. Ronald Hayworth, a professor of history, and Dr. Bill Stroud, a professor of philosophy. Neither man would say immediately whether he will accept a new contract.

The board's vote came on a long resolution which expressed regret about the degree of board involvement in personnel matters and expressed confidence in the administration of Dr. Carl Reng, ASU president.

The administration recommended at the March meeting of the board that contracts of Hayworth and Stroud not be renewed and the recommendation was approved by a 3-2 vote of the board.

Board Chairman Joe Brooks of Jonesboro and member Dorothy Stuck of Dallas voted against the administration in ambassador, Shriver replied to questions about state issues that he had been "only two and a half weeks off the boat."

Later, though, he retorted to remarks about his unfamiliarity with his native state that "I've been here the past 10 years and I haven't been walking around unconsciously."

He also said that while he had had no diplomatic experience when he became ambassador to France, nor been in many foreign countries before he headed the Peace Corps, "the record shows, I think, I've done a pretty good job."

The most likely Republican candidate at this point is C. Stanley Blair, who recently resigned as a top aide to Agnew, but who has not definitely announced he will enter the race.

Tuesday, May 12, 1970 March while Russell Owen of Marked Tree, Austin Temple of Crosssett and W. P. Galle of Little Rock supported the administration's recommendation. Galle switched sides Monday and introduced the resolution which was approved during the 75-minute executive session.

Reng announced recently that the administration had changed its mind on Hayworth and would recommend a new contract for him. The administration made no such recommendation on Stroud.

The board resolution said, "We accept the recommendation of the administration that Dr. Hayworth be offered a contract for the academic year 1970-71 and, in view of the administration's change of position in this case, we feel in fairness a contract should be offered to Dr. Stroud for the next academic year also."

Hayworth said he wanted to read the contract before committing himself and that he wanted to contact his attorney to discuss legal complications. Hayworth attended the meeting at which the resolution was read and adopted.

Stroud, reached in Memphis where he was looking into job possibilities, said he could not say if he would accept the position until he had checked out other job leads. He declined to say if he would stay at ASU if his job leads did not offer any advancement.

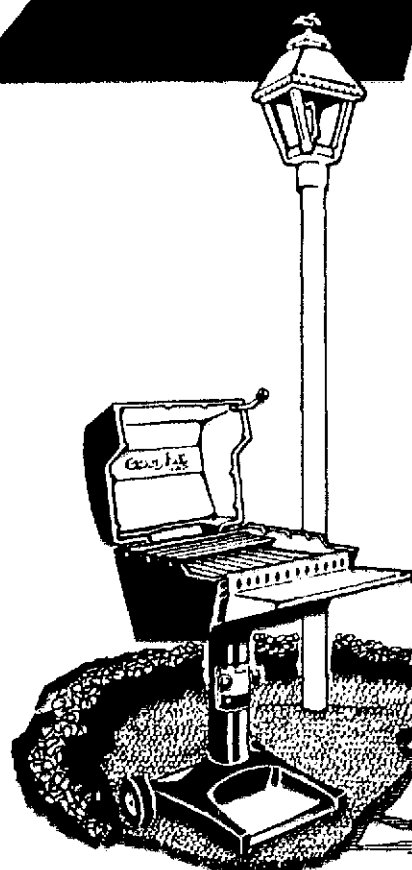

He said, however, his decision would depend on whether the board has guaranteed "professional academic policies which protect professors."

"If there are not new policies, no new procedures then this is a hollow victory," he said.

Students staged peaceful protests after the dismissal of Hayworth and Stroud contending that academic freedom at the university had been endangered by the actions of the board and administration.

A Note of Thanks Long Overdue

There's a new note on the American college campus. It was sounded this morning in a wire dispatch from Topeka, Kan., home of Washburn University (no connection with the family of this editor, unfortunately).

Bill Martin, a student organizer, announced plans for an "Appreciation Day" program this Friday, May 15, expected to be attended by 10,000. Purpose of the celebration, in Martin's words:

"We want to thank the people of Topeka, the state, and the nation, for the chance to go to college. We just want an education, and nobody so far as we know has held a demonstration like this."

"We formed our group as a result of the recent incidents at colleges across the nation and here in Kansas to show that some college students are grateful for a chance to get an education instead of wanting to burn and close down the schools."

Thank God for Bill Martin and his band of stalwarts—true representatives of the American college campus. They remember and are grateful to —

Fathers and mothers who made deep sacrifices to send their boys and girls off to college in a day when basic education is considered to end with a high school diploma.

Grateful also to a state and nation whose tax money has put in place the physical plant to make available a college education for those who really want it.

And finally, a testimonial to something the nation believed in all along—

That the majority of college students have nothing in common with the crude brawlers who betray a nation's dedication and sacrifice by pillaging and burning the campuses that were set up for the benefit of serious and worthwhile students.

Two generations ago the late William Allen White, editor of the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, won world acclaim for an editorial he wrote on "What's the Matter With Kansas?"

To which, in 1970, the answer is: "Nothing is the Matter With Kansas—It's just a wholesome piece of the U.S.A."

No Decline in Wholesale Prices in April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices did not decline in April as indicated in a preliminary report, but the final figures issued today nevertheless cheered the administration: they failed to rise for the first time in 18 months.

Only farm and food prices declined in the wholesale index, however.

Industrial raw materials rose three-tenths of one percent, but this too was a hopeful indicator, because it represented a 3.6 percent annual rise instead of the 4 percent rate of increase at the start of the year.

The index stood at 116.6 percent of the 1957-59 average in April. That compared with 111.9 percent a year earlier.

This meant that it cost $116.60 in March and April, on the average, to buy the same assortment of wholesale goods which would have cost $100 in 1957-59.

For all commodities represented in the index, the price average was 4.2 percent above a year ago, down from a 4.8 percent rate of annual rise in January.

U.S., Vietnam Gunboats Hit Cambodia Line

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American and South Vietnamese navy boats have begun operations along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian coast to cut off the movement of war supplies to the enemy, the U.S. Command announced today.

The command said in a statement, "There is no intention to interfere with third country or Cambodian traffic or fishing in these waters. This is not a blockade. The Cambodian government has been informed."

The U.S. Navy said in another development that the 7th Fleet has beefed up its carrier strike force in the Gulf of Tonkin off the coast of North Vietnam by stationing a third aircraft carrier there for the first time since the bombing halt 18 months ago.

A 7th Fleet spokesman said the move was taken to meet "operational commitments" but would not elaborate.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam, talking to newsmen in the Cambodian town of Neak Luong said earlier that a blockade began Saturday and involved only vessels of the Vietnamese navy.

"The navy, he said, 'has received orders to patrol the coast from the South Vietnamese border to Sihanoukville.'"

He said the blockade was started after "an agreement between the Lon Nol government and ours." Lon Nol is premier of Cambodia.

The Viet Cong have been staging raids on the south coast from bases in nearby South Vietnam.

Ky disclosed that South Vietnamese aircraft were supporting Cambodian troops west of the Mekong River.

He said Cambodian army troops, with the help of Vietnamese bombers, recaptured Takeo, a provincial capital 50 miles south of Phnom Penh, from the enemy Monday.

Ky said his country's forces may stay in Cambodia for an extended period of time, even "if the Americans decide to withdraw logistical support for our troops."

President Nixon said last week all American troops, including advisers, will be out of Cambodia by the end of June.

Only two carriers have been operating in the Gulf of Tonkin since the bombing of North Vietnam was halted Nov. 1, 1968.

The addition of the third carrier increases the number of 7th Fleet warplanes available from roughly 150 to more than 200.

Informed sources said North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces are setting up new bases deeper in Cambodia following the allied offensive that has killed more than 5,000 of the enemy and taken huge war stockpiles. But they warned of possible counterattacks.

New Experiment Places Kin in Hospital With the Mentally Ill

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new experiment in treating the mentally ill puts members of their families into the hospital with them.

And this seems to produce good results, two psychiatrists told the American Psychiatric Association.

Often the person who is put in the hospital is simply "carrying the symptoms of a disturbed family," and treatment needs to be aimed at the family, they explained.

Drs. Gene M. Abrams and Carl H. Fellner of the University of Wisconsin told Monday of treating 100 patients, with whom 126 members of the families also were admitted to the hospital. The 126 included husbands, wives, parents, brothers and sisters of patients.

Diagnoses were made of the family members as well as the patients. Among the 126, half were considered to have personality disorders.

Thirty per cent of the patients had problems apparently related to marital or family dishar-

Israel Tanks, Planes Sweep Into Lebanon

By HAL MCCLURE
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli armor and warplanes lunged into southern Lebanon to attack Arab guerrilla bases today and Syria and Iraq announced they had joined the battle to help the Lebanese.

The Israeli command in Tel Aviv described the Israeli attack as the biggest on Lebanese soil in the Arab-Israeli confrontation.

An Israeli spokesman said three Syrian MIGs were shot down by Israeli jets as the Syrian aircraft approached an Israeli armored column.

He did not say where the planes crashed. It was not known whether they were coming to help the guerrillas.

At the time the three Syrian planes were encountered, the Israeli incursion had been under way for eight hours.

A Lebanese communique issued in Beirut said an Israeli Phantom jet was brought down near Rashaya and had fallen inside Lebanon. It said the two-man crew parachuted and a hunt was under way for them.

The Palestine Liberation Organization, reported in Beirut that Arab guerrillas had blown up bridges in the battle area to hinder the advance of the Israeli armor.

Israeli casualties were being evacuated by helicopter, said the communique.

The Syrian-Lebanese border is just east of the battle zone.

Syria is a strong supporter of Arab guerrillas, and military men in Tel Aviv say members at the El Salga sabotage organization, a Damascus-backed group, are among the irregulars encamped in east Lebanon, a target of Israeli attacks.

Fulbright Says Mail Favorable

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The office of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Monday the volume of mail to the senator concerning the Cambodia situation was "unprecedented."

A spokesman said Fulbright's Washington office had received more than 40,000 letters and telegrams last week about President Nixon's decision to send American troops into Cambodia. He said about 95 percent of the letters endorsed Fulbright's stand against Nixon's move.

Others suffered from neuroses, schizophrenia or other ailments.

For about half of the 100 original patients, improvement of symptoms occurred within 24 hours of the family's admission, the psychiatrists said.

"The sheer force of the family's expressed concern, as well as their willingness concretely to shoulder responsibility for the disturbance and the treatment, seem crucial here," Abrams and Fellner said.

The 100 patients were hospitalized an average of 17 days, and the family members for about 10 days.

Helpful treatment really begins, the doctors said, when the patient and his family accept the idea that "the problem lies between all of them, not just within the 'patient.' Therapy proceeds when the family can sit down together and work out their faulty methods of relating."

It does no good to tell a family that the trouble "is really with all of them, but then let all but one of them go home," the doctors reported.

Fulbright Group Would Cut All Funds for Military in Cambodia

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, reacting swiftly to last week's widespread antiwar sentiment, has approved legislation to block funds for all American military action in Cambodia.

The bill also would prohibit the Pentagon from authorizing military construction for Cambodia or conducting any air combat activity in support of Cambodian ground troops.

"The way out of Vietnam does not lead through Cambodia," said Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine. "The time has come to substitute new policies for old policies in Southeast Asia."

The amendment, sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., also bars the use in Cambodia of South Vietnamese troops that are supported by U.S. funds.

The committee approved the measure 9 to 4 Monday as Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said he had received pledges of support from 31 senators for an amendment to cut off all funds for U.S. operations in Southeast Asia except for what is needed to bring home the troops.

And President Nixon repeated his pledge to 43 of the nation's governors that U.S. troops would be withdrawn from Cambodia by June 30.

As Nixon met with the state executives in the White House, hundreds of college students descended on Capitol Hill to lobby congressmen.

The Foreign Relations Committee also approved an amendment to repeal the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution used by former President Lyndon B. Johnson as the legal basis for sending a massive troop increase to Vietnam.

Chairman William J. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the vote on the latter was unanimous.

In addition, the committee passed a resolution placing a $35 million ceiling on the amount of equipment the Defense Department can give annually to a foreign government.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the White House would not have any comment on Church's amendment barring U.S. military activity in Cambodia.

Drug Possessor Is Pardoned by Governor

By RAYBELL

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — An outbreak of racial violence triggered by the beating to death of a teen-age Negro jail inmate has left six persons dead, more than 60 injured and widespread property damage in this east Georgia city.

Firemen, escorted by National Guardsmen and state troopers ordered into the city by Gov. Lester Maddox, gradually brought under control more than 30 fires set Monday night by roving bands of Negroes.

Authorities said the situation was calming early today and that sporadic sniper fire was dying out.

As dawn broke a thin pall of smoke from the dying fires hung over the city.

City officials and Negro leaders called a meeting this morning to try to calm the situation further.

Some 300 more National Guardsmen were airlifted into Augusta from Savannah early today in an effort to prevent further trouble.

Maddox, at the request of Mayor Millard Beckum, ordered more than 200 guardsmen and 140 state troopers into the city after the violence broke out Monday afternoon. Beckum also ordered a citywide curfew into effect from midnight until 8 a.m.

The troopers and guardsmen sealed off a mainly Negro area covering about 130 square blocks on the fringe of the downtown business section. They set up barricades on major thoroughfares into the area and stopped autos to search for firearms, arresting anyone who possessed a weapon.

Authorities declined to speculate on whether the five persons killed, all Negro males, were hit by police or sniper fire.

The two hospitals in the city, Talmadge Memorial and University, said they had treated more than 63 persons for various wounds.

Hope Kiwanis Club Honored Here Tuesday

The Hope Kiwanis Club was honored here today for its outstanding voluntary contributions to community recreation programs.

The Club was awarded a citation by the National Recreation and Park Association, the nation's largest nonprofit service, research and educational organization dedicated to improving the quality of life through effective utilization of natural and human resources.

The Hope Kiwanis Club was instrumental in obtaining donations used to construct a new little league baseball diamond, and in forming the Golden Age Club which is now part of the Parks and Recreation Department.

In addition, the Club financed the Youth Center Building and its activities until the building was turned over to the city of Hope in 1955.

Nixon Firmly Committed on Withdrawal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today "several thousand" U.S. troops have already been withdrawn from Cambodia, more would come out by the end of the week and major operations against Communist sanctuaries would be completed by June 15.

The secretary told the Senate Armed Services Committee that while the operations "have exceeded our expectations" and all U.S. forces will be out of Cambodia by June 30, the Nixon administration remains opposed to a proposed limit on U.S. forces in Cambodia approved Monday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Such a limit, Laird said, might interfere with President Nixon's ability to protect American interests in Southeast Asia.

58 Arrested in Detroit Gambling Raid

By STEPHEN H. WILDSTROM
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — In a five-hour sweep more than 200 FBI agents have carried out what Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell called the biggest gambling raid by federal agents in the nation's history.

Agents raided 58 locations in Detroit and its suburbs and in Flint Monday and arrested 58 persons. Nine others were being sought. Federal officials said the raid broke up a numbers ring which had been grossing $250,000 daily.

All those arrested were released on $1,000 bond on charges of conspiracy to violate provisions of the interstate transportation in aid of racketeering law.

The charge carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

An FBI spokesman said that in addition to making the arrests, agents seized cash, numbers slips, tally sheets, files, adding machines and firearms.

Few details of the raid were immediately released. U.S. Atty. James Brickley brushed aside newsmen's questions, saying no information would be forthcoming until a news conference today.

The raid marked the culmination of the third federal gambling probe in the Detroit area in recent months.

The first investigation involved what federal authorities termed a national sports betting ring. After a series of raids which began New Year's Day, 10 persons were charged with conspiracy to violate federal gambling laws and six others were named as co-conspirators.

A second investigation involved alleged bookmaking activities in Flint.

There have been no arrests resulting from that probe.

Elections in Several States Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters in Nebraska and West Virginia ballot today to choose candidates for the U.S. Senate. In Newark, N.J., six candidates vie in a mayoral election that appears headed for a runoff.

Incumbent Sens. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, a Democrat, and Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, a Republican, were considered strong favorites for re-nominations.

Byrd, seeking a third term, was opposed by John J. McOwen, a Huntington lawyer whose only previous political try was an unsuccessful campaign for the state legislature in the 1950s.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A deadly night-time tornado trailed by hurricane velocity winds has turned this city of 170,000 into a disaster area with 23 known dead and still more bodies believed hidden under debris.

Hundreds were injured and property damage was unofficially calculated in the millions as the storm left a path of destruction eight miles long.

It was hours after the tornado struck—just before 10 p.m. Monday—before state and city police could find time to begin searching the wreckage.

A state police spokesman said it seemed likely "many more bodies would be found."

Damage centered in the downtown area, where virtually all store fronts were blown out and a policeman said, "Looting started before the wind died down." Police patrolled the streets to curb further thefts.

A. W. Voigt, executive director of the American Red Cross in Lubbock, said, "Official reports are virtually nonexistent. 'We have no estimate of the number of homes or buildings destroyed because our efforts have been aimed at rescue and relief work."

"We have one shelter open and we have people going into our municipal coliseum."

The twister tore concrete chunks off skyscrapers and whipped broken glass through the streets, causing many injuries.

Electrical power went out. Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. rushed 300 men into the area to restore service on 35,000 telephones.

Mayor James Granberry described the damage as "massive, just massive."

Hospitals were quickly jammed with the injured and two of the city's largest had to turn patients away after filling corridors with beds and cots for those who arrived earlier.

Near 19,000-student Texas Technological College two apartment buildings were shattered. Injured, many bleeding from facial wounds, lined the streets waiting for help. A big brick wall at the college blew down, demolishing a number of parked cars.

Damage was heavy and injuries numerous in the Mexican-American section of the city, where buildings generally were of flimsy construction.

"We are trying to set up some sort of evacuation system for the injured," Granberry said. "I guess we'll try to get them into the Midland-Odessa area to the south and Amarillo to the north."

Gov. Preston Smith sent units of the National Guard to assist police. The state police dispatched 45 patrol units.

Jay Harris, managing editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, said a second story wall of a major addition just completed at the Avalanche-Journal building was blown down.

Wednesday Is Deadline for Week-End Items

This is a special notice to clubs, churches, and other organizations sending week-end announcement stories and pictures to The Star.

All stories and pictures announcing coming events expected to be published in Friday or Saturday editions must be delivered to the newspaper office Wednesday, or postmarked Wednesday night for delivery first thing Thursday morning — or management reserves the right to omit publication.

This 48-hour deadline is employed on advertising, and now we are forced to invoke it on news announcements — because organizations have gotten into the habit of waiting until Friday morning to stamp the news desk with more copy and pictures than can be handled on short notice.
